ChurchKey

In an effort to support small churches who cannot afford high-end applications, i2s has developed ChurchKey, a simple church management package with basic membership tracking, time management, organization outlines, and giving records. Initial versions of ChurchKey are being provided as FREEWARE. Click here to download version 2.0 in a self-extracting file; and please e-mail any problem reports or suggestions for improvement.

NOTE: if you do not already have it, you will need a copy of the Borland Database Engine (see below) in order to use ChurchKey.

Borland Database Engine

The Borland Database Engine (BDE) is an interface package developed by Borland to make Delphi, Paradox, and other Borland applications work with a wide variety of databases, to include DBase, Paradox, Interbase, and virtually any relational database with an SQL interface. If you do not already have the BDE installed on your PC, you will need to download the BDE installation package and install it in order for ChurchKey to run.

NOTE: Several users have reported problems related to the BOLE16D.DLL library routine. If you encounter this problem, just click on the filename above to download it to your system, then 'unzip' it into your windows/system directory, and everything should be okay.
